Dear Friends,

It is my sincere pleasure to lead our city in celebrating African American Heritage Month. The contributions of our African American residents in the arts, academia, business, government, and the nonprofit sectors are immense and well worth recognizing year-round.

Throughout our great city, we welcome the celebration of African American Heritage Month, and I encourage you to experience L.A.’s rich African American culture by participating in its traditions and customs.

I hope you will use this Calendar and Cultural Guide created by our Department of Cultural Affairs (DCA) to learn about the many activities happening all over L.A. in celebration of African American Heritage Month. Please join us in this celebration and enjoy all our neighborhood arts and cultural centers have to offer.

I also encourage you to enjoy the work of Los Angeles’ emerging and established African American artists showcased by DCA throughout this publication. These artists keep heritage alive and vibrant in innovative and contemporary ways, providing us with visual treasurers to admire.

Sincerely,

ERIC GARCETTI
Mayor
City of Los Angeles

Dear Friends,

On behalf of the Los Angeles City Council, it is my privilege to invite you to celebrate African American Heritage Month in our great City! People from around the world have made Los Angeles their home, and each culture contributes to the rich diversity that makes it among the foremost cities in the world.

This month we continue to honor the achievements of our City’s African Americans, and acknowledge their contributions to this great culture. With this calendar, our Department of Cultural Affairs (DCA) highlights the work of our artists who keep our shared African American traditions alive and thriving in our communities. DCA offers a wide array of arts and cultural events for your enjoyment. Please refer to this calendar to find the numerous festivals, musical events, theatrical performances, films, poetry readings, and cultural activities in your neighborhood.

I encourage you to take part in the special events listed throughout these pages, and welcome you into our Neighborhood Arts and Cultural Centers to celebrate African American Heritage Month in the City of Angels.

It is sure to be a memorable celebration!

Sincerely,

HERB J. WESSON, JR.
President
Los Angeles City Council
Council Member, District 10
Dear Friends,

The Department of Cultural Affairs is pleased to present this calendar of events celebrating the vibrant African American cultural traditions that continue to shape the unique heritage of our great City. These events honor the extraordinary range of African American experiences, from ancient traditions, to the contemporary voices of our artists and storytellers.

We are pleased to showcase engaging art produced by our Los Angeles artists in this publication. Their vision pays homage to steps taken in the past, but looks towards the future with a contemporary edge. Combined with the work of other artists of African descent around the City, they truly represent the heart and soul of this year’s African American Heritage Month Celebration.

As part of the Mayor’s “Back to Basics” priorities, the Department is helping to create a more livable and sustainable City by providing services, like this calendar and cultural guide, to enrich the quality of life for our residents and visitors. Since our City knows few boundaries, we are collaborating with our colleagues in neighboring cities to include calendar events around the Los Angeles area.

We engaged our partners and community leaders to support these events, and want to acknowledge our appreciation for their ongoing generosity. We also extend our thanks to the members of Our Authors Study Club, the Mayor’s staff, the Council President’s staff, the Board of Public Works staff, and the many nonprofit organizations, community groups, and arts organizations whose efforts helped us create this impressive listing of fun, educational, and exciting events.

What better place to see fantastic art, experience a taste of African American culture, and celebrate a City’s great heritage than Los Angeles? We hope you will join in the festivities and enjoy!

John Royce Mathis was born on September 30, 1935 in Gilmer, Texas to Clem and Mildred Mathis. As a small boy, the family moved to San Francisco where he learned an appreciation of music from his father who taught him his first song, My Blue Heaven. Clem Mathis, who worked briefly as a musician in Texas playing the piano and singing on stage, would continue to teach his son many songs and routines. Johnny sang in the church choir, at school functions, and community events, in addition to singing for visitors in their homes and at amateur shows in the San Francisco area. At George Washington High School, Johnny was known not only for his singing ability but his athleticism as well. He became a star athlete on the track and field team as a high jumper and hurdler and played on the basketball team.

In 1954, Johnny enrolled at San Francisco State College (San Francisco State University) with the intention of becoming an English and Physical Education teacher. While there, Johnny set a high jump record of 6 feet 5 1/2 inches. This is still one of the College’s top jump heights and was only two inches short of the Olympic record at the time. During his college years, a fellow student, whose sextet was working at the Black Hawk nightclub, brought Johnny in for a Sunday afternoon jam session where Helen Noga, co-owner of the club, first heard him sing and decided that she wanted to manage his career. In early September of 1955, Johnny landed a job singing weekends at Ann Dee’s 440 Club. After repeated attempts, Helen convinced George Avakian, then head of Jazz A&R at Columbia, to see him. Avakian came to the club, heard Johnny sing and sent the now famous telegram to his record company: “Have found phenomenal 19 year old boy who could go all the way. Send blank contracts.”

Johnny continued his studies at San Francisco State and gained additional fame as a high jumper. In early 1956, Johnny was asked to attend the trials for the 1956 Olympic teams that would travel to Melbourne, Australia that summer. At the same time, Columbia Records requested that Johnny come to New York to start arrangements for his first recording session. Clem helped his son decide that his future and best interests were with the recording company. So, Johnny gave up his chance to become a member of the USA Olympic Team. He went to New York to record his first album in March, 1956. The first album was a collection of jazz oriented renditions of popular standards entitled: Johnny Mathis: A New Sound In Popular Song. It included jazz musicians Gil Evans, John Lewis, and Teo Macero and songs like Angel Eyes, Easy to Love, and Babalu. Johnny remained in New York and landed bookings at some of the leading nightclubs such as the Village Vanguard, The Blue Angel, and Basin Street East.

In the fall of 1956, Johnny recorded two singles. These songs were to become among his most popular all-time greatest hits: Wonderful, Wonderful and It’s Not For Me To Say. Subsequently, MGM Studios signed Johnny to sing It’s Not For Me To Say in the film Lizzie. He played a tavern piano bar singer. In 1958, Johnny made another motion picture appearance. This time it was for 20th Century Fox in A Certain Smile. Since then, Johnny’s voice has been used in countless Hollywood movies for theme songs, background music, and to enhance a particular setting or segment. Wonderful, Wonderful and It’s Not For Me To Say reached their peaks on the Billboard pop chart in July, 1957. These successes were followed by the monumental single, Chances Are which became Johnny’s first number one hit.

In June, 1957, Johnny appeared on the Ed Sullivan Show where he was introduced to the record buying public and became a national celebrity and household name. Columbia Records continued to release albums of Johnny singing beautiful and romantic ballads, classic standards, and the best songs from Broadway musicals. It was not uncommon for Johnny to have as many as four albums on the Billboard Top Albums chart at the same time. In late 1959, Johnny recorded another song that became synonymous with the name of Johnny Mathis, the Erroll Garner composition, Misty.

Johnny’s accomplishments are numerous and varied. He holds many records and set many precedents in the music industry. In 1958, two years after being signed by Columbia Records, Johnny’s Greatest Hits album was released. It began a “Greatest Hits” tradition later copied by every record company. Johnny’s Greatest Hits went on to become one of the most popular albums of all time and spent an unprecedented 490 continuous weeks (almost ten years) on the Billboard Top Albums Chart and is mentioned in the Guinness Book of World Records.

At one point in his career, Johnny was one of only five recording artists to have Top 40 Hits spanning each of his first four decades as a recording artist. And as of 2013 he had a hit in every decade of his career thanks to his lovely song with Jim Brickman Sending You a Little Christmas peaking at #4 on the Billboard Adult Contemporary chart! Amazingly, his second #1 Hit Single, Too Much, Too Little, Too Late (recorded with Deniece Williams), was realized almost 21 years after his very first #1 Hit Single, Chances Are.

Johnny has been honored to make several appearances before various heads of state and he has also been honored by entertainment heads of state. In June, 1972, he was awarded his own star on the famous Hollywood Walk of Fame, and has also participated in the Oscars presentation many times performing the song nominated in the “Best Song” category.

Johnny has received five Grammy nominations during his career. The first was for Misty in 1960 in the category of Best Male Vocal Performance - Single Record or Track. The second was in 1992 for In a Sentimental Mood / Mathis Sings Ellington in the category of Best Traditional Pop Performance. He was also nominated in 2006 for Isn’t it Romantic, and again in 2011 for Let It Be Me – Mathis In Nashville in the category of Best Traditional Pop Vocal Album. His latest nomination occurred in 2014 for Sending You A Little Christmas also for Best Traditional Pop Vocal Album.

Johnny has been inducted into the Grammy Hall of Fame three times for Chances Are, Misty, and It’s Not For Me To Say. Most impressive of all is his 2003 Lifetime Achievement Award by the Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences. In 2004 he sang Over the Rainbow with Ray Charles on Mr. Charles’ Genius Loves Company. (Johnny was very honored that Mr. Charles requested the song be played at his memorial service.) Also in 2004, Johnny recorded Isn’t It Romantic, a standards CD that was released in February, 2005.

2006 was a very busy year for Johnny, marking his impressive 50th anniversary as a recording star. Johnny Mathis – Gold: A 50th Anniversary Celebration and A 50th Christmas Celebration were both released, and PBS taped a special called Wonderful, Wonderful. The PBS special was later released on DVD as Johnny Mathis – Gold: A 50th Anniversary Celebration. 2006 also marked the year he received the Society of Singers coveted Ella Award.

In 2011 Johnny received the Gold Medal of the Academy of Achievement at the Academy’s headquarters in Washington, D.C., acknowledging his many accomplishments throughout his career. His most recent honors and accolades also include: a 2013 Art Gilmore Career Achievement Award from the Pacific Pioneer Broadcasters for Radio and Television; a 2013 induction into America’s Pop Music Hall of Fame; a 2014 induction into the Great American Songbook Hall of Fame; as well as receiving the New Standard Award for his continuing career achievements.

Join us at City Hall for a tour of an unprecedented one-time only multi-floor exhibition of narrative photo art celebrating momentous cultural milestones in African American history over the past ten years. This year we are witnessing the end of President Barack Hussein Obama’s two-terms of extraordinary service as the country’s first African American president; the centennial birth of former Los Angeles Mayor Tom Bradley, the city’s first African American Mayor; and the continued civic service of Los Angeles City Council Member Herb J. Wesson, Jr., the City’s first African American Council President.

The exhibition features these leaders as well as former First Lady Michelle Obama in addition to African American elected officials serving Southern California, executive level city employees, the Los Angeles Association of Black City Attorneys, the 1984 Summer Olympics, From Where We Come (selected artworks from the collection of Bernard and Shirley Kinsey), and narrative art from past exhibitions including: Black Inventors, The Divine 9, and America’s Soundtrack: Motown.

The 2017 African American Heritage Month City Hall Tour, produced by the office of Council President Herb J. Wesson, Jr., encompasses four floors of City Hall beginning at the Main Entrance on the first floor, continuing on the 2nd and 3rd floors (including the Department of Cultural Affairs’ Bridge Gallery), and displayed on the 4th floor will be the original 2006 collection of images of previous African American elected officials serving the City of Los Angeles, including the current Council Members.

Darrell, a native of Los Angeles, is a Senior Vice President for the Consumer Banking Group, leading the Greater Los Angeles Coastal Region of U.S. Bank, the nation’s fifth largest commercial bank with over $340 billion in assets and 17 million customers. With over 37 years of extensive experience in diverse leadership and management roles within the banking world, he is an outspoken advocate for identifying new markets for individual customers with diverse financial needs. Darrell is recognized as a proven change agent with expertise in revitalizing organizations, building brand equity, and affecting positive growth. As a highly respected leader with a clear, focused direction, he has seen notable results throughout his career. He has been instrumental in corporate reorganization and restored customer confidence by consistently delivering innovative products, services and programs to maximize profits. Darrell is an effective mentor and coach who believes that “high achievement always takes place in the framework of high expectation”.

Darrell is an alumnus of UCLA Extension and The Carlson School of Executive Management at the University of Minnesota. He has received many honors and awards including “Father of the Year” by the American Diabetes Association. the 2009 Leadership Award presented by the California Legislative Black Caucus and the 2010 “Outstanding Corporate Citizen” award presented by the West Angeles Community Development Corporation. Routinely called upon to speak as a guest lecturer throughout the country on various financial topics, Darrell is recognized as an expert in matters relating to personal finance.

He is a truly rich resource for the many charitable organizations with which he is associated and is extremely generous in sharing his personal talent and his expertise in whatever way it can be useful for the community. Darrell is especially concerned with those sectors of the community that are underserved and need empowerment. In spite of his demanding work schedule and many business commitments, Darrell still finds time and energy to be involved in many charitable causes and activities. He actively serves on the boards of the Urban League of Los Angeles, Junior Achievement, Valley Industrial Commerce Association, Los Angeles Opportunities Industrialization Centers (LAOIC) and the Economic Alliance. He has dedicated love for the children and youth of our community and works untiringly to assist in providing brighter possibilities for their future.

“A mind is a terrible thing to waste.” We have all heard this slogan when raising funding for college bound students. But educating our African American children starts much much sooner and we need to unite in addressing the crisis. We need to use every resource available to assure our young people develop their God-given talents to their fullest extent.

The theme for 2017 focuses on the crucial role of education in the history of African Americans. ASALH’s founder Carter G. Woodson once wrote that, “...if you teach the Negro that he has accomplished as much good as any other race he will aspire to equality and justice without regard to race.” Woodson understood well the implications associated with the denial of access to knowledge, and he called attention to the crisis that resulted from persistently imposed racial barriers to equal education.

The crisis in black education first began in the days of slavery when it was unlawful for slaves to learn to read and write. In pre-Civil War northern cities, free blacks were forced as children to walk long distances past white schools on their way to the one school relegated solely to them. Whether by laws, policies, or practices, racially separated schools remained the norm in America from the late nineteenth century well into our own time. Throughout the last quarter of the twentieth century and continuing today, the crisis in black education has grown significantly in urban neighborhoods where public schools lack resources, endure overcrowding, exhibit a racial achievement gap, and confront policies that fail to deliver substantive opportunities. The touted benefits of education remain elusive to many blacks of all ages.

Tragically, some poorly performing schools serve as pipelines to prison for young people. Yet, African American history is rich in centuries-old efforts of resistance to this crisis: the slaves’ surreptitious endeavors to learn; the rise of black colleges and universities after the Civil War; unrelenting battles in the courts; the black history movement; the freedom schools of the 1960s; and local community-based academic and mentorship programs that inspire a love of learning and thirst for achievement. Addressing the crisis in black education should be considered one of the most important goals in America’s past, present, and future.

For additional information on the 2017 National Theme “The Crisis in Black Education,” please visit ASALH.org.
On September 9, 1915, Dr. Carter G. Woodson held a meeting in Chicago, Illinois with Alexander L. Jackson, Executive Secretary of the new Negro YMCA branch. In addition to Woodson and Jackson, three other men were present: George Cleveland Hall, W. B. Hartgrove, and J. E. Stamps. At this meeting they formed the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History (ASNLH) and appointed Dr. Woodson, Executive Director, a post he held until his death on April 3, 1950. Today, this organization is known as the Association for the Study of African American Life and History, Inc. (ASALH). Its headquarters is currently on campus at Howard University in Washington, DC.

In Los Angeles, a group of Terminal Annex postal workers brought their proposal to read the works of African American authors and learn the true history of Africans in the Americas to Mrs. Vassie Davis Wright and Our Authors Study Club (OASC) was formed on February 14, 1945. Mrs. Wright recommended that the group affiliate with Dr. Woodson’s organization and Dr. Carter G. Woodson, himself, chartered Our Authors Study Club as the Los Angeles Branch of ASNLH in June 1945. OASC was incorporated as a California non-profit organization in 1946.

Our Authors Study Club, Inc. (OASC) began citywide celebrations for what was Negro History Week in 1947. In 1950, Los Angeles Mayor Fletcher Bowron issued the first proclamation acknowledging Our Authors Study Club, Inc. as the primary sponsor of Negro History Week and invited citizens of Los Angeles to join the celebration. In 1959, while serving as General Chairperson for Negro History Week, the late Gilbert Lindsay, moved the Opening Ceremony to City Hall steps where the celebration now takes place every year, weather permitting. In the year of the nation’s Bicentennial, 1976, the celebration was expanded to the entire month of February and is now known as African American Heritage Month.

OASC continues its original mission and now offers programs that include a Reading Program for elementary school students; an Oratorical Contest for high school students; scholarships for deserving college students seeking a Bachelor’s Degree; and a fellowship for Ph.D. candidates researching African American history, literature, and/or culture. Additional activities include an annual Tour of African American Landmarks in Los Angeles and the Dr. Carter G. Woodson Scholarship and Awards Luncheon where the accomplishments of extraordinary African Americans are recognized.

Our Authors Study Club, Inc. also supports the restoration of Dr. Carter G. Woodson’s home in Washington, DC, now declared a National Historic Site, and partners with community organizations including the Black Hollywood Education and Resource Center (BHERC) and the Sigma Sigma Alumnae Chapter of Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Inc.

For more information about the Association for the Study of African American Life and History, visit their website at asalh.org.

Our Authors Study Club, Inc. is a non-profit 501 (c) (3) organization. For more information, write Our Authors Study Club, Inc. at Post Office Box 882025, Los Angeles, California 90009-3019.
Dr. Carter Godwin Woodson was born on December 19, 1875 in New Canton, Buckingham County, Virginia. His parents were former slaves Anne Eliza (Riddle) and James Henry Woodson. He died suddenly on April 3, 1950. He was the second African American to receive a Ph.D. degree from Harvard University (Dr. W.E.B. DuBois was the first). Dr. Woodson and four supporters organized the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History on Thursday, September 9, 1915 in the Wabash Avenue YMCA office located on the south side of Chicago, Illinois.

His dream for ASALH was to archive sociological and historical data, publish books, promote the study of African American life and history, and encourage racial harmony through the organization and work of clubs and schools. In 1916, ASALH published the first issue of the “Journal of Negro History,” a highly respected and scholarly digest that was followed in 1937 by the “Negro History Bulletin,” a widely circulated historically oriented magazine. In 1920, Dr. Woodson founded the Associated Publishers, the for-profit arm of the Association. The Associated Publishers is responsible for the publication and circulation of ASALH’s renowned African American History Month Kits. Additionally, the Associated Publishers sells books and other literature authored by Dr. Woodson and other prominent scholars in the field of African American history.

In February 1926, Dr. Woodson announced the institution of Negro History Week, which coincided with the birthdays of Abraham Lincoln and Frederick Douglass. In 1976, the observance was expanded to “National African American History Month,” in honor of the nation’s bicentennial. Beginning in 1975, U.S. Presidents have paid tribute to the mission of the Association and urged all Americans to celebrate African American History Month. Since 1926, ASALH has established the national theme for the month-long celebration of African American History Month. The Association maintains the Carter G. Woodson Home in Washington, D.C., where Woodson operated ASALH from 1923 until his death in 1950. The Woodson Home is a National Historic Landmark.

The work of the organization has historically been to promote, research, preserve, interpret, and disseminate information about African American life, history, and culture to the global community.

Los Angeles Branch of the Association for the Study of African American Life and History, Inc.

Mrs. Wright and a group of Terminal Annex Postal Employees founded Our Authors Study Club, Inc. on February 14, 1945 for the purpose of studying the biographies of African American authors, reading and reviewing their books, and learning the true history of African American people in the Diaspora. In June of 1945, Dr. Carter G. Woodson chartered the group to become members of his Association for the Study of African Life and History, Inc. Mrs. Wright also helped to establish lending libraries in the YMCA, YWCA, and at the Second Baptist Church’s Henderson Community Center. Other notable achievements included the first citywide celebration of Negro History Week in Los Angeles and initiating a Black History curriculum in the Los Angeles Unified School District Adult Schools.

Mrs. Wright was educated in the public schools of Denver, Colorado. She graduated from Western University in Kansas City, Kansas and did her graduate work in Teaching at the University of Kansas. After moving to California, she attended the University of Southern California Extension and completed courses in Sociology and Business Administration. Mrs. Wright became well known for her abilities as an organizer, socialite, and civic worker.

Mrs. Wright was a real estate broker, community activist, a Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Inc. member, and a very active member of Second Baptist Church. In addition, she was an organizing member of many community groups.

Mrs. Vassie D. Wright was born in Paola, Kansas on December 6, 1899, the daughter of Samuel Davis and Lula Ann (Pertilla) Davis. She died on March 20, 1983, in Los Angeles, California. On June 5, 1985, the Los Angeles Jefferson Branch Library was renamed the “Jefferson-Vassie D. Wright Memorial Library.” The library is located at 2211 W. Jefferson Boulevard, Los Angeles, California, 90018.

PANTSULA 4 LYF: POPULAR DANCE AND FASHION IN JOHANNESBURG

Pantsula 4 LYF: Popular Dance and Fashion in Johannesburg will feature a series of photographs and videos taken by South African photographer Chris Saunders that examine the township culture of pantsula. Known predominantly as a youth movement, pantsula is characterized by crews of men and women who perform energetic, acrobatic, virtuosic dances. These performers dress in a distinctive style that favors American-made brands such as Converse All-Star shoes and Dickies brand work pants. This preference for American-style clothing harkens back to the 1950s, when the first pantsulas looked to American jazz records for inspiration in their dress. At that time, pantsulas were recognizable by their sharp suits, polished shoes, and fedoras.

JOLI! A FANCY MASQUERADE FROM SIERRA LEONE

This exhibition features a rare group of 11 headdresses worn in Joli masquerades held in Sierra Leone’s capital city of Freetown in the 1970s. Joli headdresses are among the most unusual, complex, and elaborate masquerade configurations we know from sub-Saharan Africa, and they reflect the blending of cultural influences and peoples in the dynamic port city of Freetown. The headdresses in this exhibition were performed to mark the end of the Muslim month of Ramadan. Crafted by Joli Society members, each headdress started with an elaborate armature made of bent and twisted wire, which was padded with polyurethane foam and then covered with textiles, brocades, velvets, netting, Christmas tinsel, fringe, lace, and mirrors to create a “fancy” superstructure in a recognizable shape, such as a mosque, an elephant, a biplane, or the water spirit Mami Wata. The exhibition explains the history of Joli and the various threads of influence that led to this fantastic urban masquerade popular for only a brief period in the 1970s.

ADISA SALON

Barbershops and salons can be sanctuaries for heterosexual and cisgendered African Americans. However, for LGBTQ African Americans barbershops and salons can be breeding grounds for prejudice, bullying, and fearmongering. Adisa Salon is an affirming and creative event featuring barbers, hair stylists, and beauticians along with an open mic format where queer African American artists and other artists of color can perform. Adisa Salon will debut in February during African American Heritage Month at the Carl Bean House in the historic West Adams neighborhood at ‘In The Meantime’ headquarters.

WU-TANG CLAN: RETURN TO THE 36 CHAMBERS

Enter the Wu-Tang (36 Chambers) is the debut studio album by the American hip hop group Wu-Tang Clan, released November 9, 1993, on Loud Records and distributed through RCA Records. Recording sessions for the album took place during 1992 to 1993 at Firehouse Studio in New York City, and it was mastered at The Hit Factory. The album's title originates from the martial arts film The 36th Chamber of Shaolin. The group's de facto leader RZA, also known as Prince Rakeem, produced the album entirely, utilizing heavy, eerie beats and a sound largely based on martial-arts movie clips and soul music samples.

AFRICAN-PRINT FASHION NOW! A STORY OF TASTE, GLOBALIZATION, AND STYLE

African-Print Fashion Now! A Story of Taste, Globalization, and Style will feature the dynamic and diverse dress traditions of African-print cloth—the boldly patterned and brightly colored textiles popular across Africa—and their increasing connections to the international fashion and contemporary art worlds. This exhibition and accompanying programs will build awareness of African art and culture, and the central role print cloth has played in the expression of African identity since the 19th century. The Fowler Museum is uniquely situated to provide historical context to this emerging global fashion phenomenon and to challenge perceptions of Africa as static and culturally isolated.

OCTAVIA E. BUTLER: TELLING MY STORIES

The first exhibition to examine the life and work of celebrated author Octavia E. Butler (1947-2006) since her archive came to The Huntington in 2008, Octavia E. Butler: Telling My Stories, features approximately 100 items — from her very first short stories, written at age 12 — to book contracts, extensive drafts, and correspondence. Together they shed light on the writer’s early years and influences, as well as explore specific themes that repeatedly commanded her attention. The first science fiction writer to receive a prestigious MacArthur “genius” award and the first African American woman to win widespread recognition writing in that genre, Butler found the road to success slow at first. The exhibition features a page of motivational notes in which she writes, “I am a Bestselling Writer. I write Bestselling Books . . . So Be It! See To It.”

MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR // EARLY READERS

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, DR. KING!
Written by Kathryn Jones
Illustrated by Floyd Cooper
Publisher: Simon & Schuster

After getting in trouble at school for fighting with another boy because he wanted to sit in the back of the bus, fourth-grader Jamal gets in trouble again at home when his Grandpa Joe learns about the scuffle. Grandpa Joe explains the story of Rosa Parks and the Montgomery bus boycott to help Jamal understand the history associated with sitting in the back of the bus. Jamal is so impressed with the story that he leads his class in a skit about the historic incident, which they stage in celebration of Martin Luther King's birthday.

MY DREAM OF MARTIN LUTHER KING
Written and illustrated by Faith Ringgold
Publisher: Crown

The author tells the story of Martin Luther King, Jr. from the perspective of her own childhood dream. As her dream opens, she sees a world of people carrying bags full of prejudice, hate, ignorance, violence, and fear, and exchanges them for bags of hope, freedom, peace, awareness, and love. Her dreams reflect real and imagined glimpses of the life of Martin Luther King, Jr. to tell the story of his vision and civil rights leadership. By visualizing the story as the author tells it, young readers will be able to understand Dr. King's mission.

JUST LIKE MARTIN

Written by Eleanora E. Tate
Publisher: Just Us

Young Stone is a member of his church’s youth group and a devoted follower of the nonviolent philosophies of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. When a racist’s bomb explodes in his Sunday school classroom, killing two of his friends, Stone demonstrates his commitment by organizing his peers for a controversial nonviolent children’s march. Stone must defy his father, who is much more militant, in this moving story set in the racially charged 1960s.

MARTIN LUTHER KING

Written by Rosemary L. Bray
Illustrated by Malcah Zeldis
Publisher: William Morrow

The life and works of Martin Luther King, Jr. are captured in over-sized pages of text and bright folk art in this exceptional book. The text begins by covering Martin’s early life, when his childhood experiences began to shape his sensibilities. The major events of Martin’s life are touched upon, including the day he became aware of and embraced Gandhi’s philosophy of nonviolent protest, and his marriage to Coretta Scott. Every significant civil rights event during Martin’s adult life is detailed, framing a young reader’s understanding of the era and of King’s leadership role.

A TESTAMENT OF HOPE: THE ESSENTIAL WRITINGS AND SPEECHES OF MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

Written by Martin Luther King, Jr.
Edited by James Melvin Washington
Publisher: Harper San Francisco

An exhaustive collection of the speeches, writings, and interviews with the Nobel Prize-winning activist, this book contains Martin Luther King, Jr.’s essential thoughts on nonviolence, social policy, integration, black nationalism, the ethics of love, hope, and more.
CIVIL RIGHTS + SLAVERY // EARLY READERS

A BAND OF ANGELS: A STORY INSPIRED BY THE JUBILEE SINGERS

Written by Deborah Hopkinson
Illustrated by Raúl Colón
Publisher: Atheneum, Simon & Schuster

This is the inspirational story of nine young people who in 1871 brought the Fisk School (later to become Fisk University) back from the brink of financial failure. Ella Sheppard, born into slavery in 1851, travels to Nashville after the emancipation to pursue her dream of attending Fisk. While there, she joins the choir. The group takes their show on the road, singing white songs to white audiences to try to earn money for the struggling school. Just when it seems that the school is going to fail, Ella decides to change the program leading her peers in rousing black spirituals from their slave heritage. The audiences are so moved by the soulful sounds that word spreads and the group, who become known as the Jubilee Singers, becomes an international sensation, saving the school from bankruptcy.

GRANDDADDY’S GIFT

Written by Margaree King Mitchell
Illustrated by Larry Johnson
Publisher: Bridge Water

Little Joe lives through a life-changing experience when she witnesses her granddaddy’s stand against racial discrimination. Granddaddy is the first black to register to vote in their rural Mississippi town, and he and the family endure humiliation and threats from the townspeople as a result of his action. Little Joe’s love and respect for her granddaddy deepen as a result of the experience, but more importantly, Little Joe begins to appreciate the value of education and standing up for what is right.
IF A BUS COULD TALK: THE STORY OF ROSA PARKS

Written and Illustrated by Faith Ringgold
Publisher: Houghton Mifflin

In an imaginative biographical story, young Marcie boards a bus and experiences an eerie event. The bus has no driver, but it is full of riders who are celebrating Rosa Park’s birthday. The riders tell Marcie the story of Rosa’s life from childhood through the events that followed her courageous refusal to give up her seat on this very same bus. Marcie’s enlightening bus ride climaxes when she actually meets Mrs. Parks, leaving her with a full understanding of why Rosa Parks is known as the mother of the civil rights movement.

TO BE A DRUM

Written by Evelyn Coleman
Illustrated by Aminah Brenda Lynn Robinson
Publisher: Albert Whitman

Young Matt and Martha’s daddy tells them about their African ancestors who were so in tune with the earth that they captured its beat and translated it through their bodies onto their drums. When they were torn from their land and brought into slavery, their drums were taken away. But the people never lost their beat. Richly textured mixed-media paintings embellish the thought-provoking message.
CIVIL RIGHTS + SLAVERY // MIDDLE READERS

THE CAPTIVE
Written by Joyce Hansen
Publisher: Scholastic

Kofi, a West African prince, is betrayed by a fellow countryman and stolen away from his family, friends, and Sierra Leone homeland by a slave trader in 1788. Young readers travel with him from the time of his terrifying bondage and voyage over the Atlantic in a slave ship to his landing in America, where he is sold.

LIFT EVERY VOICE AND SING
Written by civil rights leader and poet James Weldon Johnson in 1899, “Lift Ev’ry Voice and Sing” is sung in schools and churches throughout America. The popular, timeless song is recognized as a testimonial to the struggle and achievements of African American people - past, present, and future.
MANY THOUSANDS GONE: AFRICAN AMERICANS FROM SLAVERY TO FREEDOM

Written by Virginia Hamilton
Illustrated by Leo and Diane Dillon
Publisher: Knopf, Random House

Thirty-four brief, true stories about slavery are powerfully told. Each story relates a small piece of the historical truth about slavery. This book would make a fine classroom text or can be shared with your child to raise his or her awareness of what has gone before.

NEXT STOP FREEDOM: THE STORY OF A SLAVE GIRL

Written by Dorothy and Thomas Hoobler and Carey-Greenberg Associates
Illustrated by Cheryl Hanna
Publisher: Silver Burdett, Simon & Schuster

Young Emily, a slave, dreams of freedom as she learns to read and write. Emily has heard about the Moses who led slaves to freedom. One night, Moses does come to escort her and others to freedom on the Underground Railroad. After a long and suspenseful trip, with slave catchers on their heels, the group is hidden by a Quaker family and then sent on to freedom in Pennsylvania.
OH, FREEDOM!: KIDS TALK ABOUT THE CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT WITH THE PEOPLE WHO MADE IT HAPPEN

Written by Casey King and Linda Barrett Osborne
Illustrated by Joe Brooks
Publisher: Knopf, Random House

Kids conduct thirty-one interviews with adult friends, family members, and civil rights activists to learn firsthand about the days of the 1960s civil rights movement. Informative chapters thoroughly explore the Jim Crow era, non-violence, black power, and segregation. Three essays, and an important foreword by Rosa Parks, provide background information on various aspects of the era to help add perspective to the interviews.

THE YEAR THEY WALKED: ROSA PARKS AND THE MONTGOMERY BUS BOYCOTT

Written by Beatrice Siegel
Publisher: Four Winds, Simon & Schuster

Rosa Parks' heroic act of nonviolent resistance, when she refused to give up her seat to a white rider on a bus, sparked the most widely watched civil rights demonstration in the history of the United States. A highly accessible, non-fiction account of the Montgomery bus boycott, this book describes in complete detail the call from black civic leaders to the African American community to unite for the boycott, and the strategies that the community used to hold their position for over a year, until they prevailed.
This novel was discovered some years ago, by distinguished Harvard professor Henry Louis Gates, Jr. in an auction catalog. Gates realized that the novel, if genuine, would be the first novel known to have been written by a black woman in America, as well as the only one by a fugitive slave. He bought the manuscript (there was no competing bid) and began the exhilarating task of confirming the racial identity of the author and the approximate date of composition (circa 1855-59). Gates describes this detective work in the introduction to The Bondwoman's Narrative. He also proposes a couple of candidates for authorship, assuming that Hannah Crafts was the real or assumed name of the author, and not solely a pen name. If Gates is right (his introduction and appendix should convince just about everyone), The Bondwoman's Narrative is a tremendous discovery, and is well worth reading on literary and historical grounds. As Gates argues, these pages provide our first “unedited, unaffected, unglossed, unaided” glimpse into the mind of a fugitive slave.
INVISIBLE MAN
Written by Ralph Ellison
Publisher: Random House

_Invisible Man_ is a nightmarish novel of a man trying to comprehend the confusion of myth, experience, and inner reactions that control his life. The nameless narrator describes growing up in a black community in the South, attending a Negro college from which he is expelled, moving to New York and becoming the chief spokesman of the Harlem branch of “the Brotherhood,” and retreating amid violence and confusion to the basement lair of the Invisible Man he imagines himself.

NARRATIVE OF THE LIFE OF FREDERICK DOUGLASS,
AN AMERICAN SLAVE: WRITTEN BY HIMSELF
Written by Frederick Douglass
Publisher: Yale University Press

Frederick Douglass was born a slave on a Maryland plantation, but learned to read. Mistreated because he knew too much, he finally escaped from slavery and gained fame as an orator. Published in 1845, just seven years after his escape from slavery, this book provides students with an accessible introduction to the work of Frederick Douglass, as well a vivid first-hand account of life as a slave. Students interested in pursuing the subject are encouraged to read his later autobiography, _The Life and Times of Frederick Douglass_, published in 1881.

NATIVE SON
Written by Richard Wright
Publisher: Harper Perennial

_Native Son_ deals with the problems an African American has attaining manhood in a society that conspires against him. The story begins by showing the difficulty of achieving normal human relations in the squalor of a Chicago slum. Bigger Thomas has what appears to be amazing luck when he gets a job as a chauffeur with a wealthy family. However, in fear and confusion, he accidentally kills the daughter. He tries to escape, but is caught and tried for murder. The events seem to be a long nightmare over which Bigger himself has little or no control.

UP FROM SLAVERY
Written by Booker T. Washington
Publisher: Doubleday

Born in 1856, this autobiography describes Washington’s struggles, after the emancipation, to gain an education and found Tuskegee Institute. This addition also includes selections from other slave narratives.
Young Reginald is a consummate musician who would rather play his violin than do anything else, much to his father’s chagrin. His father, who manages the Dukes, a losing team in the Negro National Baseball League, decides to recruit Reginald as a bat boy for the team. Reginald is a disaster as a bat boy, but the team finds his violin music inspirational. As Reginald plays the music of Mozart, Beethoven, and Bach in the dugout during the games, the team begins to perform to new heights. Finally, the Dukes are in the position to win a pennant against the hottest team in the league. Win or lose, Reginald has made a difference, earning the respect of the team and the gratitude of his father.
EXPLORE BLACK HISTORY WITH WEE PALS
Written and Illustrated by Morrie Turner
Publisher: Just Us
The Wee Pals, comic-strip characters who first appeared in Ebony and Black World magazines in 1964, are the vehicle for delivering a dose of African American history to young readers. The accomplishments of over seventy prominent African Americans from all walks of life, including Angela Davis, Jesse Jackson, Thurgood Marshall, and James Farmer, are discussed by the Wee Pals in a series of short comic strips. The format and brevity of each vignette are sure to attract young readers.

I LOVE MY HAIR!
Written by Natasha Anastasia Tarpley
Illustrated by E. B. Lewis
Publisher: Little, Brown
Young Keyana is totally satisfied with her head of thick, soft hair. Even as she endures the sometimes painful combing and brushing process, she understands that her hair is special. It can be woven, braided, or beaded into beautiful styles that she loves, which fills her with pride.
READ FOR ME, MAMA
Written by Vashanti Rahaman
Illustrated by Lori McElrath-Eslick
Publisher: Boyds Mills

This sensitive story about a hard-working single mother and her loving son will touch young readers. Joseph loves to read and checks two books out of the library – one that can read by himself and another, more difficult one for his Mama to read to him. But every day Mama has a reason to avoid reading. On Mondays there was grocery shopping to do; on Tuesday, housecleaning; on Wednesday...

SOMETHING BEAUTIFUL
Written by Sharon Dennis Wyeth
Illustrated by Chris K. Soentpiet
Publisher: Doubleday

A young girl searches for something beautiful in her inner-city neighborhood, surrounded by graffiti, homelessness, broken glass, and trash. Through her neighbors she begins to recognize the small things in life that are beautiful such as good meals, friends, a small neighborhood garden, and the special love of her mother. Her mother has no trouble seeing the beauty in her own child, whose beaming face is seen on the book’s cover.

SOMEWHERE IN AFRICA
Written by Ingrid Mennen and Niki Daly
Illustrated by Nicolaas Maritz
Publisher: Puffin Unicorn, Puffin

A young boy named Ashraf lives in Africa, but not the Africa that might come to mind when young readers think about that continent. Ashraf’s home is a big city teeming with skyscrapers, bustling with cars, and alive with the energy of any large metropolitan area. Ashraf’s only view of the wilder side of Africa comes from books, whose pictures of lions, zebras, and crocodiles fascinate him. A young reader’s vision of Africa will broaden with the new knowledge that Africa has more than jungles and wild animals.

COMING TOGETHER: CELEBRATIONS FOR AFRICAN AMERICAN FAMILIES
Written by Harriette Cole
Illustrated by John Pinderhughes
Publisher: Jump At The Sun

African American families are dynamic and powerful. Celebrations play an important part in the fabric of the family. Coming Together is devoted to several of the very special occasions that many African American families honor. Filled with creative ideas for involving the entire family – from young children to grandparents and great-grandparents – this rich book provides everything you need to transform time together into compelling and memorable occasions. Coming Together is brimming with sample menus, easy-to-follow recipes, crafts, activities, and unique ideas to bring the value of these celebrations to life.

THE EDUCATION OF MARY: A LITTLE MISS OF COLOR, 1832
Written by Ann Rinaldi
Publisher: Jump At The Sun

In 1832, Prudence Crandall, a Quaker educator in Connecticut, closed her Canterbury Female Seminary and reopened it as a school for young black women. This novel revolves around the formation of that school and the storm of controversy it created in town. Many historical forces come into play here: the abolitionist movement, endemic prejudice against free blacks, and the brutality of the early factory system.

HER STORIES: AFRICAN AMERICAN FOLKTALES, FAIRY TALES, AND TRUE TALES
Written by Virginia Hamilton
Illustrated by Leo and Diane Dillon
Publisher: Scholastic

Nineteen stories are expertly told about black female folk and fairy characters. This enticing work is dedicated to mothers, grandmothers, and aunts, who have often been the bearers of such stories from generation to generation. Each story is exquisitely illustrated and is punctuated with a short commentary that adds insight into the nature and origin of the tale. Mature children, especially your daughters, will love this immediate classic. (Nonstandard English)

THE MIDDLE OF SOMEWHERE: A STORY OF SOUTH AFRICA
Written By Shiela Gordon
Publisher: Orchard, Grolier

Young Rebecca, who lives in a black township in South Africa, is afraid of being forced out of her home. The government wants to relocate her family and neighbors to a less developed area in order to accommodate expansion for white suburbanites. The villagers protest the attempts to move them, and Rebecca’s father is arrested after a community-wide demonstration. The evils of apartheid come through strongly in this novel of a family’s determination to stay together.
REFLECTIONS OF A BLACK COWBOY: THE BUFFALO SOLDIERS
Written by Robert Miller
Illustrated by Richard Leonard
Publisher: Silver Burdett, Simon & Schuster
The stories of the African American Buffalo Soldiers, who served in the Ninth and Tenth Cavalries in the nineteenth century, are colorfully told in this entertaining book narrated by Old Cowboy. The Buffalo Soldiers played an important role in opening up the western frontier, yet their stories are not well known. In this book of five short stories, several of these brave soldiers are acknowledged for their historic achievements and battles. The Reflections of a Black Cowboy series also includes a volume on pioneers, as well as one on cowboys and one on mountain men.

STORYTELLER’S BEADS
Written by Jane Kurts
Publisher: Gulliver, Harcourt Brace
Two girls, Sahay and Rachel, are bonded together during their brave journey from their Ethiopian homeland to the Sudan, where they hope to find peace and food. The story takes place during the Ethiopian famine of the 1980s, a time when millions were dying of starvation and internal warfare. The two girls – one Jewish, one Christian – ultimately find that they have more in common than not, once they overlook their different ethnic upbringings and customs, superstitions, and traditions of two distinctly different Ethiopian groups. This book will appeal to young readers of historical fiction.

THE COLOR PURPLE
Written by Alice Walker
Publisher: Harcourt Brace Jovanovich
Celie is a poor black woman whose letters tell the story of 20 years of her life, beginning at age 14 when she is being abused and raped by her father and attempting to protect her sister from the same fate, and continuing over the course of her marriage to “Mister,” a brutal man who terrorizes her. Celie eventually learns that her abusive husband has been keeping her sister’s letters from her and the rage she feels, combined with an example of love and independence provided by her close friend Shug, pushes her finally toward an awakening of her creative and loving self.

THEIR EYES WERE WATCHING GOD
Written by Zora Neale Hurston
Publisher: University of Illinois Press
Fair and long-legged, independent and articulate, Janie Crawford sets out to be her own person – no mean feat for a black woman in the ’30s. Janie’s quest for identity takes her through three marriages and into a journey back to her roots.
SONG OF SOLOMON
Written by Toni Morrison
Publisher: Knopf

Song of Solomon explores the quest for cultural identity through an African American folktale about enslaved Africans who escape slavery by fleeing back to Africa. The novel tells the story of Macon “Milkman” Dead, a young man alienated from himself and estranged from his family, his community, and his historical and cultural roots. Author Toni Morrison, long renowned for her detailed imagery, visual language, and “righting” of black history, guides the protagonist along a 30-year journey that enables him to reconnect with his past and realize his self-worth.

YELLOW BACK RADIO BROKE-DOWN
Written by Ishmael Reed
Publisher: Avon

Ishmael Reed has put together a collage of American pop culture, ancient Egyptian mythology, and voodoo ideals which becomes, in the reader’s mind, either an incomprehensible mess or hilarious satire. Yellow Back Radio Broke-Down is a novel about a black, voodoo cowboy, Loop Garoo, and his exciting adventures. It is a satire on the Western, and the American values that made the Western popular.

nothing to do with the color of my skin

BY IYA OSHUN OSHOGBO

Alkebulan
has nothing to do with the color of my skin
i've been away from home for 400 years i still know who I am despite imposed opinion in language unfamiliar it is not about my appearing in costume
but more about my heart reading my path around you...
or through you, if pressed
I've been away from home that long no longer homesick but growing out of where I'm standing in 5th generation skin diluted forced... some not but
I am the result of clandestine half-moon meetings
full of more passion than questions
rape is just not a part of me, rather strange bed fellows
even if it was a mattress of high cushiony grass under a sheltering tree whose fruit we will eat
this soon coming summer and cool another loving meeting under this discreet tree, become our friend and confidante...
rape... is just not a part of me, rather some kind of loving between Ireland &

Alkebulan
in a time when the two were violating a man's law
by being on the same fertile soil, in the same universe together...
some kind of loving...
I am what I am
I was born in Alkebulan became whole in America... whether they wanted me to or not-
I am many colors and Asia is beginning to peak around the corner of my questioning...
knockin on my DNA, to see if I'm home yet...
it has nothing to do with the color of my skin.
I am, we are, after all is said and done
Alkebulan
Fragments of the Divine are we...ships cast out in the turbulent sea of life...
The children of Infinity...aspects of Divinity...static, electric, charged...vital, Attracting, magnetic...existing in each the positive and the negative...
The proton and the electron...the feminine and the masculine...
The yin and the yang...Our nature being dual...material and spiritual...
Creative as the Essence which underlies all things...Unlimited in expression...
Transcending time and space...With our Minds...Do anything! Go anyplace!
FREE!
With shellac pin curls and closely cropped hair
A skirt of bananas
Melanin-rich bare breasts
Unapologetic about her nakedness
JOSEPHINE BAKER
Taught me
That stereotypes – the primitive and animalistic
Do not define me
And my race
African ancestry
Does not confine me

FANNIE LOU
Taught me
That it is alright to admit that
I’m “tired of being sick and tired”
That I’m tired of taking one-step forward
Only to be knocked two steps back
To constantly have to remove the sack
Placed on my back by others—
A sack that is filled with Racism, sexism, colorism, texturism, and anti-Blackness
Burdens that I have bared
Left by those who view me as
ZORA NEALE HURSTON once described
As one of the “mules of the earth”

HARRIET TUBMAN
Taught me
That it is to remove the yoke
To fight for my freedom
To bring about my own liberation
To demand that others acknowledge my humanity

SOJOURNER TRUTH
Taught me
To not hold my tongue
To not ignore transgressions made against me
To know my own strength
   Physical
   Spiritual
   Mental
To be ready to fight
To ensure that the notion of equality extends to me

ANGELA DAVIS
Taught me
That my words may spark controversy
That my actions and intentions may be questioned
And misconstrued
But I must continue to think about my community
Those who came before me
And the next generation
Who need to know that “Black is Beautiful”
Is far more than just a phrase
It is an affirmation
And my kinky-curly Afro is not a political Statement
It is part of my identity
MAE JEMISON
Taught me
That lil’ brown-skinned girls
Could not only gaze at the stars
They can also shoot past the stars
And journey into space
   Or boardrooms
   And spaces
   That were once unchartered
We can excel
Push against the glass ceiling
And make our presence known

SERENA WILLIAMS
Taught me
That one can be strong, powerful, and dominant
Without compromising their femininity
That you cannot allow others dehumanizing remarks
Make it difficult to see the beauty in –
   Full lips
   Kinky hair
   Sun-kissed brown skin
   Even a protruding derriere

SHIRLEY CHISHOLM
Taught me
To bring my own seat
To ensure my space at the table
To push forward when you hear “no”
To try, to preserve – when others say that it is impossible

TINA TURNER
Taught me
That you are “Simply the Best”
When you practice self-care
And have self-love
When you do as MAYA ANGELOU said
“Walk away from the table when love is no longer being served”
To move forward without any fears
To live life on your own terms
To remember the lessons, resilience, hopes, and dreams
Of your foremothers
   Who made it possible for you to live on your own terms
She has skin like smooth, rich chocolate, a gift from her parents 91 years ago.
Fashionable in her faux leopard hat, a cane at her side mostly for style.
A Pisces, and true to her sign, her creativity knows no bounds.
“Honey,” she says, “I’m not going to just sit.”
She moves in a wide circle of friends from artist, to politicians, and writers.
A zest for activism and social justice while chastising intolerance.
“Honey,” she says, “I’m not going to just sit around.”
She gave up driving four years ago, now traveling by bus or with caring friends.
Her children leave messages, not quite used to the woman on the go.
Energetic, curious, engaged in life as the “new seventy.”
“Honey,” she says, “I’m not going to just sit around counting my wrinkles.”
Old Folks

Old folks can hug you and
see what’s inside your womb.
Old folks can smell your lie
before it comes into your mouth.
They are younger than young folks
‘cause they have stared down time and won.
The hands of old folks are plump like sausages
skinny like the birch branch stripped of leaves my grandmother used to whip away my sass.
These hands have grabbed for the sun and missed have held the new breath of returned spirits
have clapped sorrow and joy.
Old folks can’t stand the noise hearing the whispers
from friends no longer here
Their laugh is seasoned with the mystery of memory.
Their days are not numbered.
The days of the young are numbered.
His beauty is black!

It precedes him!
Like a procession for royalty
Blue-black, gray-black, purple
Ornate crown, robes, gemstones
Revered regalia

It is carried
Like an infant for christening
Softly, gently
With pride, responsibility, and care

The hairs of his brow glisten
Each appearing deliberate and distinct
Eyelashes are separated, velvety, long
Like luscious ebony strands of silk

His beauty is his black!

Magnificent and DNA coded.
Gifted from the almighty
Significant, structured, beloved
Head shaped like a jewel: black onyx, tiger’s eye
Green amethyst, opal, imperial topaz

His beauty is black!

He wears it like gold
Forged, foiled, fierce, desired
Engaging, powerful, raven
He has only to enter, then preside
His essence requires and commands
He is the epitome of all.

Created perfect
Like President Obama’s swagger
Black handshakes
Cast iron skillets
Nights with lighting bugs\nDark county roads
Licorice vines and Texas tea

His beauty is black!

Like Elliot Johnson wore bow ties and tradition
Like Sir Lady Java wore bikinis and
Standing room only at Memory Lane on Santa Barbara Avenue
Before it was MLK Boulevard

Like Sylvester wore Compton, Watts, and the “Jungle”
Prior to feeling “Mighty Real”
Like divas, dervishes, and drag queens wore slits, stilettos, furs, favors, and Central Avenue.

His beauty is black!

Like Archbishop Bean at MAP
Alan Bell at BLK
Jewel Thais-Williams at The Catch

Like Carl Highshaw wears rest and weary
Like Ta’Shia wears priestess and praise
Lee Jackson wears age, acceptance and works in progress
Paul Scott wears frock and free
Reverend Curt wears nostalgia and Renewed
Like Earl Wooten wears Dirty Laundry scores and songs, choirs or quintets.

His beauty is black!
Like Claudia Spears on H. O. P. E.
Demetrious at tennis and Cabernet Sauvignon
Girls that be that way ...
Mother Rose, Divine, Gia, Hailie, Lamont Masters,
Ebony Lane, Ariel, and Michell’e.
Mahogany, Imani Phoenix, Sir Tony,
Jamari, Enyche’.

Like Leroy Robinson and Black Hollywood,
West Gale, Carl Bell, Leon Turner, Mel Grayson,
Greg McNeil, Christine Tripp
Kugi, Ray Riddick, Quevin Oji, Kevin Spears,
Ron Grayson, Reverend Freda,
Stuart Simmons, Angie Vaughn, Karimu,
Wendell Carmichael,
E. Lloyd Napier, “A Song For My Brother.”

Black like the Intermission, ATB, Duane Bremond,
The Golden Horseshoe, Horizon, Black Continent,
Waldorf, Belmont, Centerfield.

Bold like Stephen Semien, “Children of the Night”
Leon Daniels, “Empire”
Dale G. Madison, “Panty Man” and “Sissy Sammy”,
Spencer Collins, Gabriel Maldonado,
Octavia Butler, Kehinde Wiley

Bright like Greg Wilson, Christopher Cotton,
Dr. Kai Green
Dr. Treva Ellison, Dr. Eric Williams

His beauty is black!

Like Javon-Tae’ - Kinfolk and career, how wonderfully clear.
Omar - Silicon Valley, technology, brother wit, mother care.
Ron - sarong, dreads, mentoring, management, paintings, and crafts
Jeffrey C. - ITMT past, present, future evolving; loosely wound, working toward being tightly wrapped.
Sage, leader, father, solitude, you see; not being T.H.O.T.

His beauty is black!

Like midnight at sea
Rolling, moving, intriguing
Dark deep
Engulfing, supportive
Giving homage to those who look
Like you
Like me!

His beauty is black!

He wears it well!
As a leading, progressive arts and cultural agency, DCA empowers Los Angeles’ vibrant communities by supporting and providing access to quality visual, literary, musical, performing, and educational arts programming; managing vital cultural centers; preserving historic sites; creating public art; and funding services provided by arts organizations and individual artists.

Formed in 1925, DCA promotes arts and culture as a way to ignite a powerful dialogue, engage LA’s residents and visitors, and ensure LA’s varied cultures are recognized, acknowledged, and experienced. DCA’s mission is to strengthen the quality of life in Los Angeles by stimulating and supporting arts and cultural activities, ensuring public access to the arts for residents and visitors alike.

DCA advances the social and economic impact of arts and culture through grantmaking, public art, community arts, performing arts, and strategic marketing and development. DCA creates and supports arts programming, maximizing relationships with other city agencies, artists, and arts and cultural nonprofit organizations to provide excellent service in neighborhoods throughout Los Angeles.

DCA MANAGED HISTORIC SITES (2)

DCA provides conservation services and educational programming and tours for two of LA’s most treasured historic sites, Hollyhock House and the Watts Towers. Conservation efforts are coordinated through DCA’s Historic Site Preservation Office. DCA’s Museum Education and Tours Program coordinates tours and interpretive programs for both young people and adults.

Hollyhock House is Frank Lloyd Wright’s first Los Angeles project. Built between 1919 and 1921, it represents his earliest efforts to develop a regionally appropriate style of architecture for Southern California. Barnsdall Park, including Frank Lloyd Wright’s iconic Hollyhock House, was awarded landmark status in 2007 and listed on the National Register of Historic Places. As the nation’s highest historic landmark designation, the site has been formally recognized for its role in interpreting the heritage and history of the United States.

The Watts Towers, built over 34 years by Simon Rodia, are a Los Angeles icon. Built from found objects, including broken glass, sea shells, pottery, and tile, the Towers stand as a monument to the human spirit and the persistence of a singular vision. The Watts Towers, listed on the National Register of Historic Places, are a National Historic Landmark, a State of California Historic Park, and Historic-Cultural Monument No. 15 as previously designated by the City of Los Angeles Cultural Heritage Commission.
