Dear Friends,

On behalf of the City of Los Angeles, it is my pleasure to join all Angelenos in celebrating Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender (LGBT) Heritage Month. The LGBT community has always been an essential thread in the rich cultural tapestry of Los Angeles, and helped to make our city stronger and more prosperous.

This month, we celebrate the LGBT history that has been made here, like America’s first LGBT civil rights protest that took place at the Black Cat Tavern in Silver Lake. And we celebrate the invaluable contributions that our LGBT brothers and sisters are making every day in our city, in everything from the arts and academia to sports and science.

I hope you will use this calendar and cultural guide, created by our Department of Cultural Affairs (DCA), to learn about the many online activities to celebrate this month. I also encourage you to enjoy the remarkable artwork we are showcasing from established and emerging LGBT artists.

I send my best wishes for a memorable celebration and continued success.

Sincerely,

ERIC GARCETTI
Mayor
City of Los Angeles
Dear Angelenos:

It is my great pleasure to celebrate Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender Heritage Month with all of you this year. The City of Los Angeles — home to the second-largest LGBT community in the United States — is recognized around the world for its incredible diversity, vibrancy, and creativity. As a proud member of the LGBT community and the first openly gay citywide elected official in LA, it is an absolute privilege to live and serve here.

One of my primary objectives as City Controller has been to ensure everyone has a seat at the table in our local government. From creating an LGBT resource map, to organizing clothing drives for homeless LGBT youth, and supporting LGBT-owned businesses, I have made it my responsibility to support all members of our community.

In the 52 years since the Stonewall rebellion, we have made so much progress in the struggle for equality across the country. But there is still work to be done, as the pandemic has made clear. We must strive to break down barriers and ensure that everyone has access to equal opportunities, here and everywhere.

Thanks to the City’s Department of Cultural Affairs, this calendar of online events and cultural guide showcases the work of LGBT artists and highlights many incredibly engaging experiences. During this month and throughout the year, I encourage you to learn about LGBT history and celebrate the art and culture that has always been integral to our community!

Dear Friends,

On behalf of the Los Angeles City Council, it is my privilege to invite you to celebrate Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender Heritage Month in our great City! People from around the world have made Los Angeles their home, and in the City of Los Angeles we celebrate, respect, and honor each other as Angelenos and all the beautiful backgrounds, including LGBTQ+, and all that we bring to the table when we interact with one another.

This month, we continue this shared heritage by honoring the achievements of our city’s LGBTQ+ community and acknowledge their meaningful contributions to L.A. With this publication, our Department of Cultural Affairs (DCA) highlights the work of our LGBTQ+ artists who keep our traditions alive and thriving in our communities and offer new ones for us to consider. To mark this important month, DCA is also providing arts and cultural online activities for your enjoyment.

I encourage you to refer to this calendar to find the numerous festivals, musical events, theatrical performances, films, poetry readings, and cultural events that are just a click away.

Together we will celebrate Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender Heritage Month and accomplishments in the City of Angels.

Sincerely,

NURY MARTINEZ
Los Angeles City Council President
Councilwoman, 6th District
Friends,

Each June, we celebrate Pride with LGBT Heritage Month — although this year, much like last year, we again find ourselves in unprecedented and challenging times.

One year ago, our nation was grieving the loss of innocent Black and transgender lives cut short by unfathomable acts of violence, and civil unrest across America had reached a fever pitch. Xenophobia surged — and continues to surge — as hate crimes increased against Asian, immigrant, and other minority communities. And we were faced with the many uncertainties and hardships that came along with the COVID-19 global pandemic — many of us even endured the unimaginable loss of a loved one.

A once-in-a-century pandemic could not postpone our Pride, and the civil unrest did not stop us from marching toward a better tomorrow. This year, I will once again join City Controller Ron Galperin and Councilmember Mike Bonin, as well as Mayor Garcetti and the entire Los Angeles City Council, in recognition of LGBT Heritage Month. For 2021, we will be honoring Frontline Activists in the LGBT Community:

- UFCW OUTreach
- Black LGBTQ+ Activists for Change (B.L.A.C.)
- Snehal Desai and theatre company East West Players

These leaders represent the best of the LGBT community: fearless, tenacious, creative, resilient, and proud. While we celebrate their remarkable achievements this June, we know the work continues to lift the voices of those most in need in queer communities. I join the City in this mission, and I stand with all frontline activists not just this month, but every day. We are in this together.

With love, pride, and solidarity,

MITCH O’FARRELL
Councilmember, 13th District

Dear Friends,

It is with great appreciation for the many people who make the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender community vibrant in Los Angeles that I write to welcome and celebrate LGBT Heritage Month.

For generations, activists and allies have been living proof of how inclusivity can make a city stronger and more vibrant. Los Angeles is a place that accepts everyone, regardless of whom you love. We are a city that stands up to fight for equality for everyone, everywhere. We are a city connected with threads woven with pride.

People from every part of this city work to make this tapestry of diversity and pride even stronger and more exciting. From the emergence of new pride organizations, like DTLA Proud and Venice Pride, to expanded LGBT homeless youth shelter systems, like the LGBT Center, LA’s legacy of championing pride and demanding equality is more alive than it ever has been before.

There is still a lot of work that needs to be done. With rampant economic adversities facing the LGBT community, we need progressive leadership in Los Angeles to continue the march toward equality. I am proud to be a part of this fight, and to stand with you all to celebrate, resist, and march forward.

Thank you for being part of this celebration of our heritage and this call to action for our future.

Regards,

MIKE BONIN
Councilmember, District 11
Dear Friends,

The Department of Cultural Affairs is pleased to present this calendar of online events celebrating the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender (LGBT) community thriving in our unique City. In this publication we honor the extraordinary range of LGBT experiences and cultural traditions transforming our society into an exciting, creative metropolis.

This past year was full of ruptures in normalcy, community resiliency, and creative reinvention. It was a moment in time where history will show the collective impact of our ability to respond to crisis through an unwavering dedication to fostering the well-being of our communities for the greater public good. We have seen communities step up to take care of our most vulnerable while demonstrating how to protect, serve, and heal from a mystery virus that shows no mercy on those it infects. We know firsthand, because we have lived it, and many have survived it, to tell the story.

As a proud member of the LGBT community, I want to express my appreciation for the work of the members of our Heritage Month Committee, the Mayor’s Office, the Controller’s Office, the Office of the City Attorney, and our City Council Offices for their assistance in recruiting and recognizing the many nonprofit organizations, community groups, arts organizations, artists, and activists whose efforts helped us create this impressive publication full of fun, educational, and exciting events that are just a click away. We are also pleased to showcase a selection of contemporary art produced by our Los Angeles LGBT artists in this publication. Their vision pays homage to steps taken in the past towards progress, and looks ahead towards a future assuring equality for all.

With this publication, I hope you will enjoy fantastic art, experience LGBT synergy, and celebrate a City’s great gay heritage...all contributing to what makes Los Angeles thrive creatively and culturally through this crisis and beyond.

Sincerely,

DANIELLE BRAZELL
General Manager

UFCW OUTREACH

UFCW OUTreach is a constituency group dedicated to building mutual support between our union’s International, regions, and locals, and the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender (LGBTQ+) community and their allies in order to come together to organize for social and economic justice for all, regardless of age, race, gender, creed, color, sexual orientation, or gender identity.

Together, we will ensure full equality for LGBTQ+ workers on their jobs and in their unions.

Together, we will build a labor environment that cherishes diversity, encourages openness, and ensures safety and dignity, as we move forward in the spirit of “an injury to one is an injury to all,” opposing all forms of discrimination—not just against members of the LGBTQ+ community.

Together, we will educate all UFCW leaders, staff, and members about the LGBTQ+ community, and build support and solidarity for the UFCW in that community and all communities that share our union’s common goals and interests.

Together we will fight to achieve equality for all members of the LGBTQ+ community in employment, marriage, immigration, and wherever else inequities exist.

Together, we will work closely with Pride at Work and other organizations to achieve mutual goals and make our shared vision for equality for LGBTQ+ workers a reality.

Equality, education, understanding, and solidarity are our mission.
HONORING FRONTLINE ACTIVISTS IN THE LGBT COMMUNITY

BLACK LGBTQ+ ACTIVISTS FOR CHANGE (BLAC)

Black LGBTQ+ Activists for Change (BLAC) was founded by Gerald Garth and Brandon Anthony in 2020 with the mission to highlight, celebrate, and amplify the unique needs and experience of Black and Black LGBTQ+ communities. Recognizing that intersectional identities play a major part in activism and advocacy, BLAC looks to center and sustain opportunities and spaces for Black LGBTQ+ individuals and allies.

In June 2020, BLAC led the All Black Lives Matter demonstration and installation on Hollywood Boulevard, drawing over 40,000 participants.
SNEHAL DESAI

Snehal Desai is the Producing Artistic Director of East West Players (EWP), the nation’s premier Asian-American theater company and one of the longest running theaters of color in the US. Snehal's inaugural season as Artistic Director, included the Los Angeles premiere of Allegiance starring George Takei, a revival of Philip Kan Gotanda's Yohen with Danny Glover and the world premiere of David Henry Hwang and Jeanine Tesori's Soft Power.

Before this time, Snehal was a freelance director working across the United States and the UK. He is a member of the Asian Pacific American Media Coalition (APAMC) and serves on the boards of the Consortium of Asian American Theaters and Artists (CAATA) and Theater Communications Group (TCG). Snehal found a home at East West Players because he found it to uniquely stand at the intersection of artistry and social justice. As an artistic leader, he has sought to raise awareness on social issues that affect Angelenos by personalizing them through storytelling.

A Soros Fellow and the recipient of a Tanne Award, Desai was in the Inaugural Class of Theatre Communications Group's (TCG) “Spark” Leadership Program. He was also the Inaugural Recipient of the Drama League's Classical Directing Fellowship. Snehal is on the faculty of USC's graduate program in Arts Leadership where he teaches Executive Arts Leadership. Snehal is a graduate of Emory University and the Yale School of Drama.
Established in 1965, East West Players (EWP) has since premiered more than 228 plays and musicals, along with over 1,000 diverse readings and workshops for actors, writers, and directors. By building bridges between East and West, EWP has cultivated a loyal audience of over 70% people of color. The company continues to build platforms for artists of color while advocating for multi-faceted representations of the Asian Pacific American experience in the performing arts.

EWP was founded by nine Asian American artists (Mako, Rae Creevey, Beulah Quo, Soon-Tek Oh, James Hong, Pat Li, June Kim, Guy Lee, and Yet Lock) seeking to create roles beyond the stereotypical parts they were offered in mainstream Hollywood. In 1998, EWP Artistic Director Tim Dang led the company’s move from a 99-seat Equity Waiver “black box” theatre into a new 240-seat venue at an Actors Equity Association contract level.

EWP’s main stage is the David Henry Hwang Theater, housed within the Union Center for the Arts in downtown Los Angeles’ Little Tokyo district. The theater serves more than 25,000 people each year, and has become a creative center in this historically significant setting. When Dang retired in 2016, his successor, Snehal Desai, was appointed to guide East West Players into a new wave of artistic leadership. Desai has committed to steering the work of East West Players with an intersectional focus that further unveils the diversity of Asian Pacific identities as portrayed on stage.

FIRE AND THE FUTURE: A PANEL DISCUSSION ABOUT JANE EYRE, LOS ANGELES
This is a discussion about the film with the artists and two art historians. The film, Jane Eyre, Los Angeles is a new video work by LA artist Jordan Loeppky-Kolesnik and NYC artist Coco Klockner. Their film draws on the story of Jane Eyre to tie a thread between trans-femininity, colonialism, and destructive wildfires in Southern California. In a greater context, the work speaks to ideas and questions of narrative, ecological survival, disaster, queerness, transness, and our imagination of the future.

SHOUT THE REVOLUTION CONTINUES
What happens when women take power? L.A.’s premier women’s chorus examines that question in an ambitious music event. Through lyrics and narration based on the words of the women on the front lines of the Suffragist movement, VOX creates a dynamic visual and aural story of both the past and present in celebration of the 100th Anniversary of the 19th Amendment. Featuring the Suffrage Cantata which captures the struggle for women’s right to vote through women’s voices, piano, strings, and percussion, seamlessly blended with historical images and footage, this event is essential viewing for these turbulent times.

IN PRESENCE OF MY ANCESTORS

By Reece

I knew
I was in presence of God

You in front of me
Like phenomena, what is this beyond humxn being?

You called out what was behind me
Brought it forward
Took me back
You were there when I was created
Is this another retrograde or Saturn’s return?

I felt seen,
I was vulnerable, never experiencing my own presence
Light shining on all that was never acknowledged in me
Seed planted in soil surrounded by darkness
Sunshine was you
Witnessed me stretching to grow
It wasn’t judgment free
For without judgment we could not have balance
Light each ourselves shining to expose truth

I yearned to be free of judgment
Judgment like theory can be factual in reality all you wanted to do was introduce
More of me
All of me to myself
I respected
I listened
I changed until my actions matched my word which is my desire, to be me
I experienced transformation. I turned. I shifted. I was broken in. I was restored.

I acknowledged all that was behind me now entirely in front of me until there was nothing left to do but for you to acknowledge God in me too....
You turned your back
now what’s behind you?

I know I was in presence of God.....
When I saw light in front of me, for the presence of you was simply more than I imagined it could ever be. I saw myself in you, light that I now carry, as you me we carry my legacy.

My ancestors,
I accept the journey before me.
With your guidance I trust we got it from here
PROMISE ME

By Imani Tolliver

1. were today like any other i would walk somewhere
   expose a grand smile to an old friend

2. colors are strange now values are not the same insides fold into themselves when someone walks by

3. under the tree of wishes
   i touch my palms in prayer dandelion seeds umbrella all around

4. inside of my home
   i reimagine my life
   closed door; an open road

5. these days, i notice more orange feathers, singing winged one my window, a world

6. i understand now that we construct time
   as we circle the bright star infinite, our path
At first, newspapers announced disease from baboons eats flesh leaves those who lie with apes bubbling with warts. Then, radio announcers convinced us it’s reserved for the gays — you took peace in my abstinence “all that ungodly sex! God making an example of them so all the good Christians can stay straight and narrow.
Am I right? Hallelujah!” then then, tv stations edutained with ABC’s:

An excerpt from “American Descafeinado”
1.

To exhibit skill, English archers shot arrows through the eye socket of a bull’s skull.

The first Target store opened in the suburbs of Saint Paul, Minnesota in 1962.

It’s no use going back to yesterday, because I was a different person then.

In 2016, Philando Castile was murdered for being Black and suspicious. I wasn’t reaching for it, was all they heard before there were no sounds. The cop, holding a gun, felt threatened.

Horns, unlike antlers, are an extension of the skull and usually found on both males and females.

To live in a Black body means balancing the burden of hundreds of skulls on your head to allow in other burdens.

A cop locked his knee cap into George Floyd’s neck for 8 minutes and 46 seconds killing him in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Across the country, riots broke out following attacks at the hands of the police in 1967. It was called the long, hot summer.

It’s kind-of Alice in Wonderland with the same moving picture re-shown over and over again.

So, when the bulls eye burned during protests no one had to tell me. My skull itched from the shock of new bones when smoke filled my home.
The first time someone called me the n-word was in West Hollywood.

When I was 16, my mother told me, smile while my photo was taken at the DMV. If I was stopped, the police wouldn't think I was threatening.

To be young, gifted, and black means nothing at 12am and a cop pulls you over.

At a nightclub on Santa Monica, a white man kicked me in the back. Security kicked me out. He owned the club.

In 1969, if you were Black you had to show 3 picture ID’s to set foot into the clubs.

I’m not young anymore and I haven’t had anything to smile about in months.

We’re taught from the moment we leave the house to remember we’re Black. Blackness is reason enough to be attacked.

Some nights at 3am I wake up to a wingtip stuck in my back.

As a leading, progressive arts and cultural agency, DCA empowers Los Angeles's vibrant communities by supporting and providing access to quality visual, literary, musical, performing, and educational arts programming; managing vital cultural centers; preserving historic sites; creating public art; and funding services provided by arts organizations and individual artists. Formed in 1925, DCA promotes arts and culture as a way to ignite a powerful dialogue, engage LA's residents and visitors, and ensure LA's varied cultures are recognized, acknowledged, and experienced. DCA's mission is to strengthen the quality of life in Los Angeles by stimulating and supporting arts and cultural activities, ensuring public access to the arts for residents and visitors alike.

DCA advances the social and economic impact of arts and culture through grantmaking, public art, community arts, performing arts, and strategic marketing, development, and design. DCA creates and supports arts programming, maximizing relationships with other city agencies, artists, and arts and cultural nonprofit organizations to provide excellent service in neighborhoods throughout Los Angeles.

DCA NEIGHBORHOOD ARTS AND CULTURAL CENTERS

DCA’s neighborhood facilities offer high-quality instruction for young people and adults in the performing, visual, and new media arts. The Arts and Cultural Centers offer after-school and summer arts programs, produce solo and group art exhibitions, create outreach programs for under-served populations, and produce a variety of festivals during the year that celebrate the cultural diversity of the community.

DCA MANAGED HISTORIC SITES (2)

DCA provides conservation services and educational programming and tours for two of LA's most treasured historic sites, Hollyhock House and the Watts Towers. Conservation efforts are coordinated through DCA's Historic Site Preservation Office. DCA's Museum Education and Tours Program coordinates tours and interpretive programs for both young people and adults.

Hollyhock House is Frank Lloyd Wright's first Los Angeles project. Built between 1919 and 1921, it represents his earliest efforts to develop a regionally appropriate style of architecture for Southern California. Barnsdall Park, including the iconic Hollyhock House, was awarded landmark status in 2007 and listed on the National Register of Historic Places. As the nation's highest historic landmark designation, the site has been formally recognized for its role in interpreting the heritage and history of the United States. Hollyhock House was inscribed on UNESCO's World Heritage List in 2019.

The Watts Towers, built over 34 years by Simon Rodia, are a Los Angeles icon. Built from found objects, including broken glass, sea shells, pottery, and tile, the Towers stand as a monument to the human spirit and the persistence of a singular vision. The Watts Towers, listed on the National Register of Historic Places, are a National Historic Landmark, a State of California Historic Park, and Historic-Cultural Monument No. 15 as previously designated by the City of Los Angeles Cultural Heritage Commission.
